

-----'s

Secwepemc Plant Book

-----'s

Secwepemc Plant Book

A Word About Traditional Plant Use

Years ago, plants were used for medicinal purposes as well as food.

Knowledge about plant use was passed down through the generations. Special information about how to prepare them was very important.

A Word About Traditional Plant Use

Years ago, plants were used for medicinal purposes as well as food.

Knowledge about plant use was passed down through the generations. Special information about how to prepare them was very important.

DO NOT eat these plants or try to use them as medicines!

Our bodies are not used to them and like any medicine, they should never be taken without a doctor's directions.

DO NOT eat these plants or try to use them as medicines!

Our bodies are not used to them and like any medicine, they should never be taken without a doctor's directions.

Dandelion

The roots of this bright, sunny flower cleanse the kidneys.

The tender green leaves are considered a delicacy in salads.

Dandelion roots are roasted and sold as a coffee substitute.

Dandelion

The roots of this bright, sunny flower cleanse the kidneys.

The tender green leaves are considered a delicacy in salads.

Dandelion roots are roasted and sold as a coffee substitute.

Juniper

The berries of this plant are steeped and used as a rinse which people use to wash down buildings and rinse hair - very shiny and clean.

The wood was used to make bows and the strong scent of the boughs would get rid of harmful spirits.

Juniper

The berries of this plant are steeped and used as a rinse which people use to wash down buildings and rinse hair - very shiny and clean.

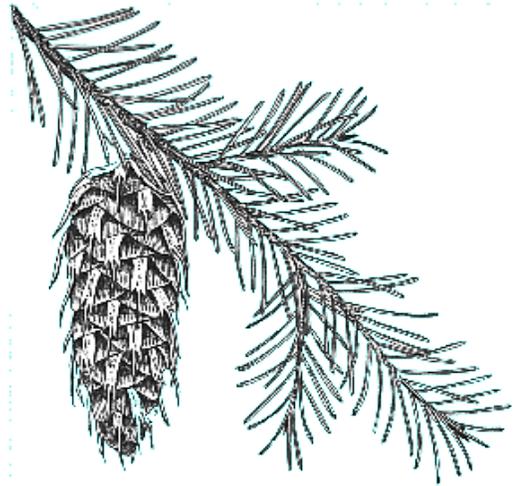

The wood was used to make bows and the strong scent of the boughs would get rid of harmful spirits.

Douglas Fir

This tree produces a strong shelter if you need to make a lean-to in the woods.

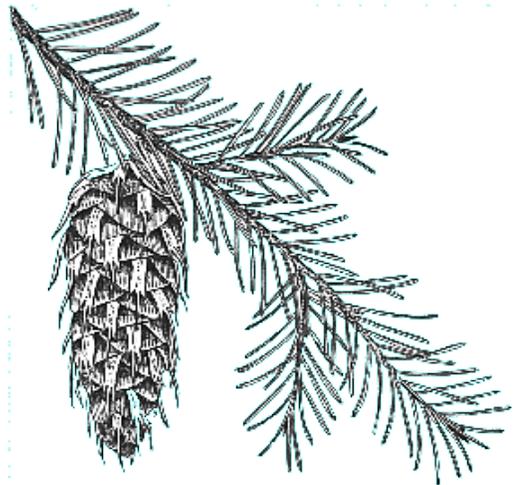

The seeds were eaten and the sap was chewed.

Douglas Fir

This tree produces a strong shelter if you need to make a lean-to in the woods.

The seeds were eaten and the sap was chewed.

Great Mullen

This plant would be used if you were outdoors and had to wipe your bottom.

It was also used for baby diapers and other absorbent personal care products.

Great Mullen

This plant would be used if you were outdoors and had to wipe your bottom.

It was also used for baby diapers and other absorbent personal care products.

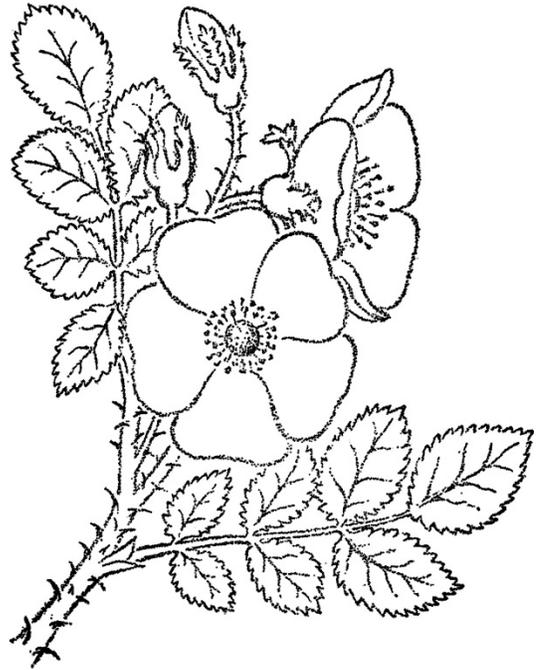

Wild Rose

The ripened flower/fruit of this plant looks like a berry and is very high in vitamin C.

Bears graze on rosehips to fatten up for the winter.

Arrows were once made from rosewood.

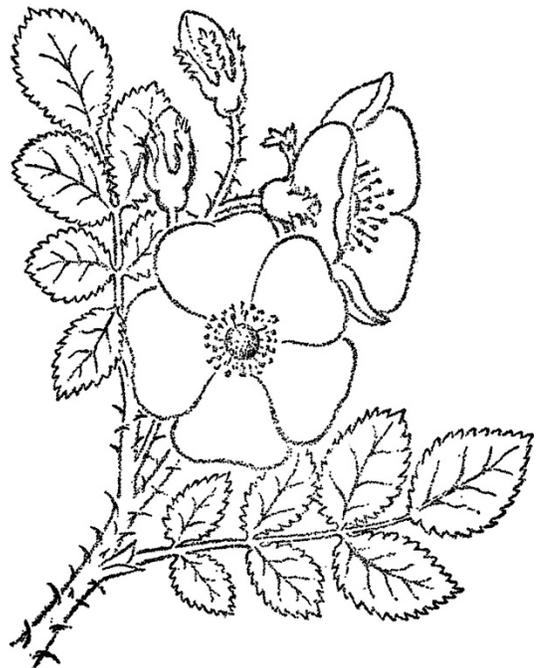

Wild Rose

The ripened flower/fruit of this plant looks like a berry and is very high in vitamin C.

Bears graze on rosehips to fatten up for the winter.

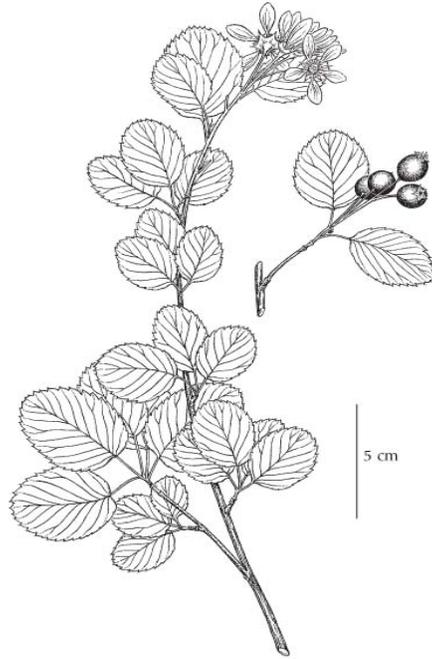

Arrows were once made from rosewood.

Saskatoon Berry

This was the most important berry and widely used plant amongst the people of the Southern Interior.

The berries were eaten fresh and also dried and used like raisins.

Amelanchier alnifolia var. alnifolia

Saskatoon Berry

This was the most important berry and widely used plant amongst the people of the Southern Interior.

The berries were eaten fresh and also dried and used like raisins.

Amelanchier alnifolia var. alnifolia

Sage

The boughs of this plant were hung in buildings and often used as an air freshener. Teas were made from sage to drink as a remedy to the common cold. People also used it to soak arthritic feet and achy areas.

Sage

The boughs of this plant were hung in buildings and often used as an air freshener. Teas were made from sage to drink as a remedy to the common cold. People also used it to soak arthritic feet and achy areas.

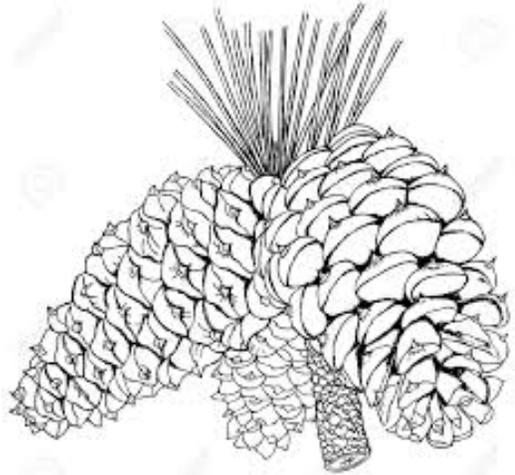

Ponderosa Pine

The needles of this tree were used to make baskets of all shapes and sizes.

The seeds provide a great source of food for small birds and animals.

The cones only open to release seeds after intense heat or fire.

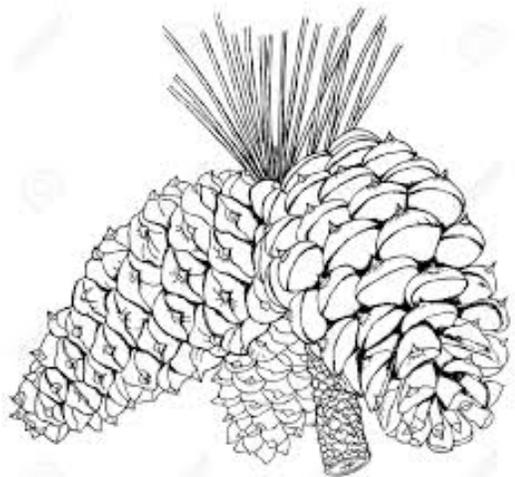

Ponderosa Pine

The needles of this tree were used to make baskets of all shapes and sizes.

The seeds provide a great source of food for small birds and animals.

The cones only open to release seeds after intense heat or fire.

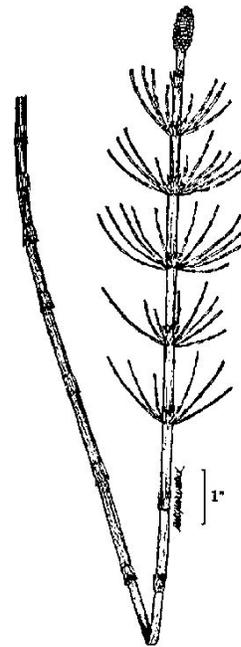

Horsetail

Horsetail has an abrasive or sandy feel to it.

Years ago it was used for sanding down, or smoothing out wood.

If you had to scrub dishes out on a camping trip you could use this.

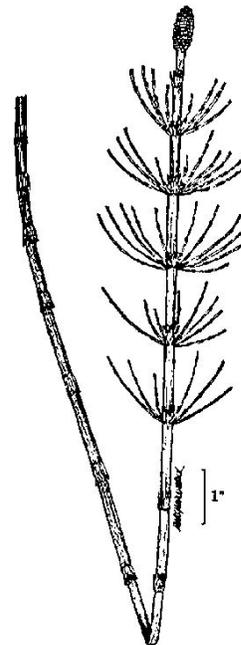

Horsetail

Horsetail has an abrasive or sandy feel to it.

Years ago it was used for sanding down, or smoothing out wood.

If you had to scrub dishes out on a camping trip you could use this.

Arrow-Leaved Balsam Root

This plant, when the seeds were ground down, was how flour was made years ago..

Arrow-Leaved Balsam Root

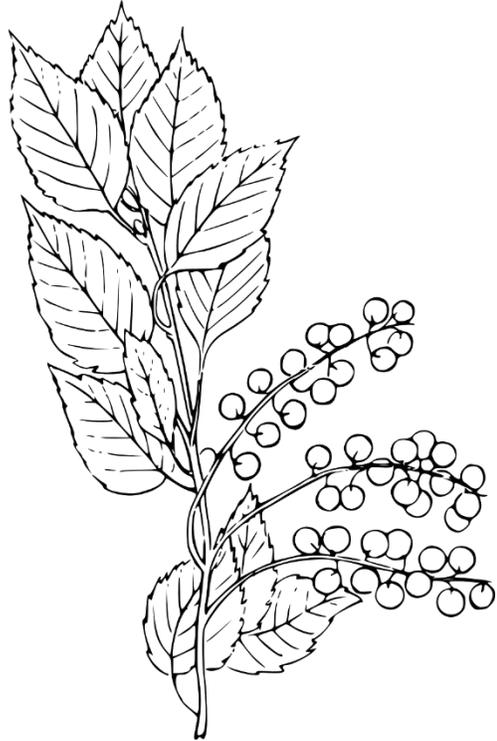

This plant, when the seeds were ground down, was how flour was made years ago..

Choke Cherry

This plant produces a fruit that gives a choking sensation when eaten.

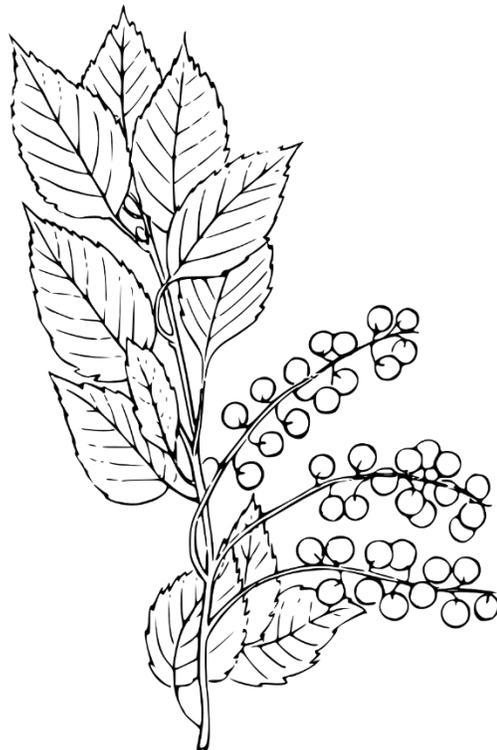

The juice was used to gain strength after illness.

Choke Cherry

This plant produces a fruit that gives a choking sensation when eaten.

The juice was used to gain strength after illness.

Plantain

This stringy lawn and yard “weed” is used to make many different types of ointments for open wounds.

A leaf from this plant will protect your tender foot from blisters.

Plantain

This stringy lawn and yard “weed” is used to make many different types of ointments for open wounds.

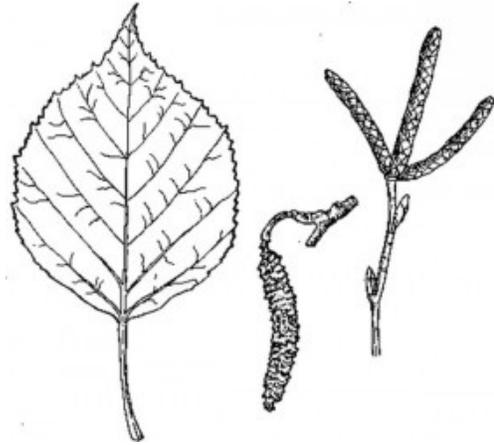

A leaf from this plant will protect your tender foot from blisters.

Paper Birch

The bark of this tree was skillfully removed and made into baskets.

Soap and shampoo were made from birch leaves.

Paper Birch

The bark of this tree was skillfully removed and made into baskets.

Soap and shampoo were made from birch leaves.

Yarrow

You can rub this plant on your skin to keep the bugs away!

The roots were rubbed on the gums to relieve toothaches.

Yarrow

You can rub this plant on your skin to keep the bugs away!

The roots were rubbed on the gums to relieve toothaches.

Extra Notes